Vacuum Mattress

Product code: Q-VAC/M

DESCRIPTION

The Paraid Medical vacuum mattress is a medical device used for the immobilisation of patients, especially in the case of vertebra, pelvis or limb trauma.

The mattress consists of a sealed polymer bag (larger than the human body) that encloses small polystyrene balls. When the mattress is under pressure, the balls are free and mould themselves around the patient, air is pumped out through the valve and the valve closed. The atmospheric pressure presses the balls together and the mattress becomes rigid securing the patient.

DESCRIPTION

The Quantum CPR Easy is designed to help the rescuer perform the most effective and consistent chest compressions on a sudden cardiac arrest victim.

Sudden cardiac arrest (SCA) is the situation in which the heart stops pumping the blood to the brain and the rest of the body. SCA can strike any person of any age and gender, anywhere, anytime.

Heart attack, respiratory arrest, excessive physical activity, electrocution, drowning, stress are the main causes leading to SCA; especially at work places where the most of daily lifetime is spent.

FEATURES

- Indicates where on the chest and how fast to perform the compressions.
- Guides the rescuer about how much force to apply on patient's chest according to patient's weight category.
- Supports with flashing LEDs.
- States the rate of compressions with clearly audible metronome signals.
- Light weighted and small sized.
- Provided with belt pouch accessory enabling mobility.
